

AUTOMOBILE ELECTRICAL

KOSTAL

KOSTAL is a leader in the Automotive industry generated from German multinational company, with 46 locations in 20 countries, we have reached more than 3.300 million sales in 2022 and aiming more the upcoming years, with a platform of 19100 employees, and more than 10% of the revenue are re-invested in the R&D.

With decades of experience in the assembly of switches for a big variety of customers, our Moroccan division was developed to be one of the best KOSTAL sites worldwide.

We are committed to stand out from the rest and value our customers, we have made it a priority to understand our customer's need and rise to that level in every challenge.

If you're dynamic, motivated, willing to learn and to be part of our next success, We invite you to apply, come, join to participate in our mutual development.

Process Engineer Trainee (M / F):

Your role and responsibilities:

He / She will Provide support to engineering team in the following actions :

- Improvement of various production processes in compliance with the technical standards of the KOSTAL group.
- Manage and assist in the start-up of new projects.
- Propose and ensure improvements in the processes of serial projects.
- Participate in FMEA risk studies.
- Continuous improvement.

It is valued:

- Process Failure Mode Effects Analysis (PFMEA)
- Failure Mode and Effects Analysis (FMEA)
- Engineering
- Continuous Improvement processes
- Production Processes
- Industrial Engineering processes

Required:

- Engineering degree in Mechatronics / Mechanics/ Electronics / Industrialization
- Previous experience as a trainee in engineering or quality departments.
- Language: French and English is mandatory, (Spanish is a Plus).

- Seniority Level
Internship

- Industry
Motor Vehicle Manufacturing

- Employment Type
Paid Internship

- Job functions
Manufacturing, Industrial Engineering, Analyst